SPA GAZING

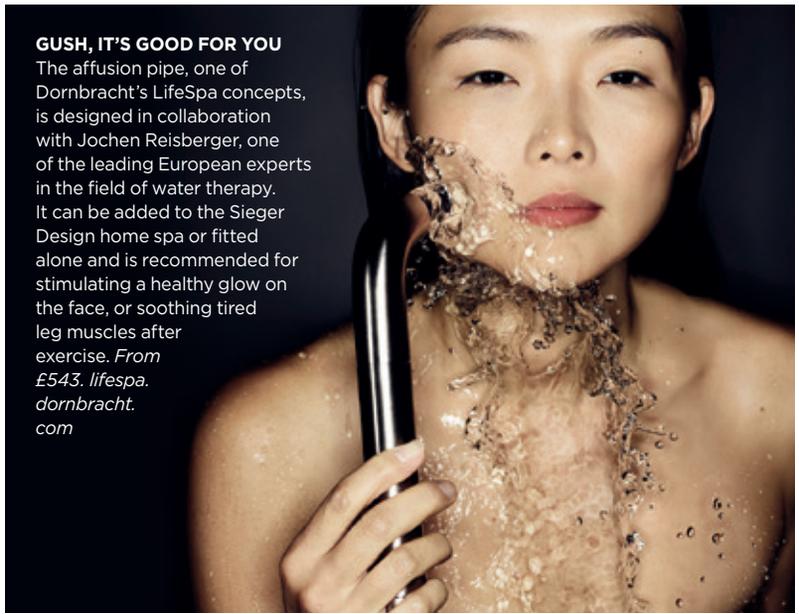

A new generation of home spas mean you can bliss out every day. So book the masseur for a house visit, put on your favourite music and reach for a robe

Architect and designer Guillaume Alan's less-is-more interior is a perfect post-pamper sanctuary. guillaume-alan.com

GUSH, IT'S GOOD FOR YOU

The affusion pipe, one of Dornbracht's LifeSpa concepts, is designed in collaboration with Jochen Reisberger, one of the leading European experts in the field of water therapy. It can be added to the Sieger Design home spa or fitted alone and is recommended for stimulating a healthy glow on the face, or soothing tired leg muscles after exercise. From £543. lifespas.dornbracht.com

« SOCIAL HOT SPOT

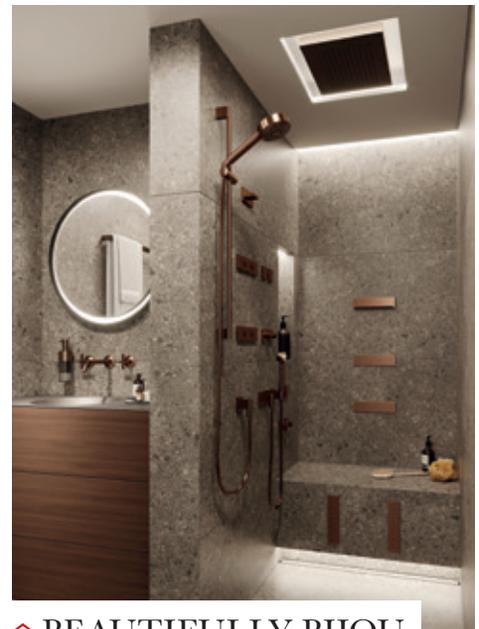

Traditionally, saunas are wooden boxes and not the most aesthetically pleasing addition to a home. Designer Marco Williams Fagioli has changed all that with Yoku, a sleek, linear design for sauna specialist Effegibi, hiding away unsightly heating equipment in the lower benches. Large glass panels feature shelving that serves as storage and also a privacy screen. Enjoy it as a personal haven or invite your friends – an alternative book club venue?

FLOAT AROUND ≡

Japanese manufacturer TOTO, of the heated seat and jet-wash loos – The Connaught's top suites have them – has launched the Flotation

Tub, an innovative 'floating' experience, where the body is supported, as if in outer space. Air jets embedded in an ergonomically shaped bath produce a flow of air through water, lifting and holding the body in 'zero dimension'. That's not all – while body and mind relax, 'Hydrohands' massage the back and neck. £27,000. cphart.co.uk

≡ BEAUTIFULLY BIJOU

The Small Size Premium Spa (SSPS) by Sieger Design is a luxury spa experience designed for small spaces requiring just over six metres of floor – ideal for a city apartment. It is fitted out with Dornbracht accessories – a rain panel, vertical shower, steam option, massage jets, automated sequence showers... just take your pick. To see SSPS, visit West One Bathrooms' Battersea showroom. POA. westonebathrooms.com
